Great Enthusiasm and a General Good Feeling—belegates to Conventions.

Allow me to thank you from the bottom of my heart for this unanimous expression of confidence and the endorsement—carried with it—for one of the most trusted and honorable duties pertaining to the work of our union saving and loyalty loving party. This is the first shot of the campaign in Sedgwick [cheers] the leading county of the great state of Kansas, and should the delegates was one of the most harmonious and enthusiastic ever held in the county. The delegates from the country arrived on the early morning trains and by 9 o'clock the scene around the court house presented by the immense throng of people was one of earnest activity.

It was soon discovered after the arrival of delegates from the country that Captain J. M. Balderson would be the choice of the convention for temporary chairman. One difficult problem seemed to present itself to the delegates and that was, to distribute the delegates to the two state convention, and early my problem seemed to present itself to the delegates and that was, to distribute the delegates to the two state convention, and early my problem seemed to present itself to the delegates and that was, to distribute the delegates to the two state convention, and early with another. Yet I know, and cherish the feeling, that the great Republican party does not lack of material, and need not seek the gloom. convention for temporary chairman. One difficult problem seemed to present itself to the delegates and that was, to distribute the delegates to the two state conventions, and to the congressional convention to the different parts of the county so as togive satisfaction to all. When 11 o'clock arrived, the time for the meeting of the convention, the court house was in a very flew minutes filled to its utmost capacity. The space linside the bar was reserved for delegates, and that being too small some of the delegates were compelled to find seats in the auditorium.

Promptly at 11 o'clock a. m. the convention was called to order by W. E. Hutchinson.

On motion of Hon. E. B. Jewett, Capt.

J. M. Balderson was unanimously elected temporary chairman. off his shirt without unbuttoning his col-lar has no resting place in the ranks of the party of Lincoln, of Grant, of Gardeld. [Applause.] The Chicago convention will nominate victory—let his name be what it may. The loyal people have no use for the man who has trod upon the heart strings of the widows and orphans of our deceased soldiers and smiled in ribaid jokes at the infirmities of our maimed heroes who still live. God is still on our side and will soon, reign again in Washington. Again I thank you.

I thank you.
